Members of Houston's Historic Districts Gather

Mayor Bill White pledged his ongoing support for historic preservation during a first of its kind party for property owners from Houston's historic districts. The August 14 gathering at downtown Houston's Magnolia Ballroom, owned by Houston Heights resident Bart Truxillo, was held to celebrate Houston's 172nd birthday. It was the first time owners of historic properties in all of the city's historic districts had been invited to gather and meet each other. Mayor White, joined by his new Special Assistant for Cultural Affairs Minette Boesel, noted how far Houston has come in the area

Bicycling The Heights

The September general meeting of the HHA will be about bicycling. Representatives from South Coast Construction will be present to talk about the construction of the Heights Bicycle Trail that will run from W.19th to downtown Houston via the old MKT rail right-of-way. Construction is scheduled to start in September. Representatives of the Heights Flyers Bicycle Club will discuss their organization. The owners of the heights bicycle shop, Blue Line Bicycle Lab on White Oak, will make a presentation on bicycle maintenance. The meeting will be held downstairs at the fire station. There will

Bicycle Rally Needs Prizes and Volunteers

The Heights Bicycle Rally Committee is near accomplishing its goal of having a prize for every child that completes the rally. But they are very short of prizes for adults. They are looking for merchandise or gift certificates for services and entertainment. The bike rally also needs volunteers. There are two check point/water stations on the rally route. Volunteers are needed to work an hour & 45 minute shift. The check points are located at Braeswood Park (Kelving & Morningside) and Root Memorial Square on Austin St. near the Toyota Center. It is possible to work a shift and also ride the rally. Every volunteer receives a Heights Bicycle Rally T-shirt.

If you can volunteer or can contribute a prize, e-mail Rally Chair, Paul Carr at torturet@aol.com or call 713-869-0505.

Student-Volunteers Double Up

A group of Imanuel Lutheran School students will perform double volunteer duty on October 4th & 5th. The group, led by Cathleen Chevallier, will work at the school's annual fall festival from 11:00am to 4:00pm on Saturday, October 4th. Then on Sunday, October 5th, they will man the Heights Bicycle Rally check point/water station at Root Memorial Park from 8:30am to 3:30pm. Root Memorial Park is located near the Toyota Center. Imanuel Lutheran School is located at E. 15th & Arlington St. For festival information, call 713-861-8787. For Bicycle Rally information, go to www.houstonheights.org/bicycle.htm.

Truxillo donated the use of his ballroom for the event and the delicious food and beverage were generously underwritten by an anonymous donor. Another Houston Heights resident, Realtor Tim Womble, donated the birthday cakes.

Attendees included several members of the Houston Heights Association Board of Directors; residents from nine of Houston's 12 historic districts and two pending districts; Houston City Controller Annise Parker, who owns a historic home in the Westmoreland Historic District; members of the Houston Archeological and Historical Commission; staff from the Houston Planning and Development Department and David Bush from the Greater Houston Preservation Alliance.

There are two City of Houston Historic Districts in Houston Heights and a third is pending for the Freeland area just south of White Oak Drive on Frasier and Granberry Streets. The Houston Heights Historic District East generally encompasses the area bounded by 11th, Heights Boulevard, 20th and Oxford Streets. The Houston Heights Historic District West is generally bounded by 11th, Allston, 16th and Ashland.

Despite the designations, demolitions are not declining. 14 historic structures, 12 in the east district and 2 in the west district, have been targeted for demolition or relocation since the new districts were established about a year ago. An in depth analysis of activity since 1994 shows a significant acceleration of demolitions and relocations in the last three years. A total of 84 original buildings, 32 in the west district and 52 in the east district, have been lost just since 2005. That is an annual rate of loss of 14 structures in the east and about nine buildings in the west, more than double the annual losses in the ten years prior to 2005. If the current rate of deterioration continues, it will be about nine years before there would no longer be enough historic inventory to qualify for City of Houston Historic District designation.

Holiday Home Tour 2008

Friday, December 5, 6 – 9 p.m.
Saturday, December 6, 3 – 9 p.m.

Docents will be available to point out the rich history, architecture and unique holiday decorations of each home. And, volunteers are welcome (and wanted) for the docent positions (and you get a free ticket for the home tour for being a docent).

Advance tickets will be available online at www.houstonheights.org and at various Houston Heights locations at a later date. Tickets will also be available on tour days.

It is important to note there will be no tour on Sunday this year. This is in consideration of our gracious homeowners (hand-picked by Santa himself) and of the many obligations we all seem to have this time of year. Plan accordingly!

October General Meeting Features Art and Candidates

The October General Meeting will feature local artists. In addition, at the October meeting, the Houston Heights Association Board of Director Candidates will present their brief candidate statements.

Some featured local artists include Karla Cisneros - Blue Crab Studio - a creative-arts firm specializing in the design and creation of jewelry and coastal accessories that celebrate the beauty of seashells and the pleasures of seaside living; Karen Farrell - Farrell's Art Glass - specializing in custom stained glass for window and door applications, Duskin Hill - Images by Duskin - International award winning photographer focusing on nature, landscapes, abstracts and Portraiture; Michael Huggins - works primarily in acrylics on canvas with themes ranging from tranquil landscapes to colorful botanicals; Julie Pettit - Jewels by Jule - specializes in beaded jewelry and unique hand made fabric purses; Adine Rotman - Adines Watercolors - specializes in watercolor animal portraits and watercolor nature scenes; Pam Steward - specializes in photography of the motion of underwater objects; Naomi Smulian - specializes in abstract oil paintings and teaches children's and adult art classes at Studio on the Boulevard at 17th and Heights. Come join us for wine and cheese while you view local art and meet your candidates. Time: 7:00 p.m. Date: Monday, October 13; Place: Fire Station 12th and Yale. See you there!

THE GREAT CELL PHONE DRIVE

Helping the Children of Kabul, Afghanistan

The Houston Heights Association has joined forces with the Rotary Club of Houston Heights and the Greater Heights Area Chamber of Commerce in a goal to collect 5,000 used, inactive cell phones over the course of two days—September 13 and 14. Money raised will be used to buy desperately-needed medical supplies and equipment for a pediatric hospital in Kabul, Afghanistan, which is staffed by our brave men and women of the Armed Forces, but tragically under-funded as to life-saving medical supplies and equipment. We commend R. G. Musgrove of the Rotary Club of Houston Heights for this endeavor and need your help to make this drive a success.

Please gather up your old and forgotten cell phones (no accessories or chargers, please) and take them to the following drop-off locations on Saturday or Sunday, September 13 or 14. Please consider asking your friends, neighbors, family, and co-workers to donate their unused phones as well. If you do not have a cell phone to donate, you may drop off new, unopened, and current over-the-counter children's medications and supplies instead.

Many thanks to these local businesses that have generously volunteered to facilitate the cell phone drive:

Buchanan's Native Plants

Educator to Judge Scavenger Hunt

Anna Pi, an instructor at the Kumon Math & Reading Center, located at 2500 Yale St. has volunteered to judge this year's Heights Bicycle Rally Scavenger Hunt. Over forty mystery objects or sights are scattered along the 20 mile course of the bicycle rally. The challenge is for the bicyclist/detectives to locate as many as possible. Prizes will be awarded at the awards ceremony at 4:00pm., at the fire station on Sunday, October 5th.

End of Bicycle Rally Celebration

The Heights Bicycle Rally and Scavenger Hunt awards ceremony will be a big party. Thanks to HHA member Mitch McFarland, entertainment will be provided by Big Al's Blues Band. The music should start about 3:30pm. Around 4:00pm, this year's MC, Martin Pike will start issuing awards and the drawing for prizes will begin. Every child (12 & under) that finishes the rally will receive a prize. There will be a separate drawing for adults.

The Heights Bicycle Rally & Scavenger Hunt will start at 7:30am at the fire station, on Sunday, October 5th. It is not a race. Participants can start at any time, as long as they finish by 4:00pm. Over 200 entrants are expected this year. For info go to www.houstonheights.org/bicycle.htm or call rally chair, Paul Carr at 713-869-0505.

New 20 Mile Route for Heights Bicycle Rally

This year's Heights Bicycle Rally, scheduled for Sunday October 5th will travel a new 20 mile route. The new route will take riders on city bike trails through the Heights, Montrose, South Hampton, Morningside, Braeswood, Texas Medical Center, Herman Park, Midtown, Downtown and Norhill. Unlike last year when there were 16 and 24 mile routes, there will only be one route this year.

Mystery sites for the scavenger hunt will be located along the entire route. This years rally maps will also include food and drink options along the route.

The September General Meeting of the Houston Heights Association will be dedicated to bicycling. There will be presentations on bicycle trails, types of bicycles, bicycle maintenance and the Heights Flyers Bicycle Club. For details on the Bicycle Rally go to www.houston-heights.org or contact Rally Chairman, Paul Carr at 713-869-0505.

The History of National Night Out

National Night Out was founded in 1983 by Matt Peskin in Wynnewood, Pennsylvania, and is sponsored by the National Association of Town Watch (NATW). It is expected that National Night Out 2008 will involve over 10,000 communities from all 50 states, U.S. territories, Canadian cities, and military bases around the world. Last year's National Night Out campaign involved citizens, law enforcement agencies, civic groups, businesses, neighborhood organizations and local officials from 11,310 communities from all 50 states, U.S. territories, Canadian cities and military bases worldwide. In all, 35.4 million people participated in NNO 2007.

National Night Out is designed to: (1) Heighten crime and drug prevention awareness; (2) Generate support for, and participation in, local anti-crime programs; (3) Strengthen neighborhood spirit and police-community partnerships, and (4) Send a message to criminals letting them know neighborhoods are organized and fighting back.

The National Association of Town Watch was pleased to announce that for the first time in its twenty-five year history, they will be instituting an alternate test date in 2008 for the State of Texas. This date will enable law enforcement agencies and communities to officially participate in NNO 2008 during a cooler time of the year and remain a part of the NATW team. Along with the traditional display of front porch outdoor lights and front porch outdoor vigils, National Night Out will be celebrated by neighborhoods and communities with a variety of events and activities such as: block parties, cook-outs, parades, flashlight walks, contests, youth programs and visits from local police.

The city of Houston first participated in National Night Out in 1985 as part of the Houston/Harris County team. Over the years, Houston/Harris County has obtained numerous awards and placements from NATW.

2008 Habitat Highways Training Series:

Creating and Restoring Habitats for Wildlife in Urban Settings
Every year, more and more natural areas are being turned into urban landscapes. Right now the national estimate is 40 million acres, roughly the size of Pennsylvania. Wildlife habitats are being fragmented or even lost, leaving birds, butterflies and other creatures isolated with no place to turn for precious food, water and shelter. The good news is that our landscapes and green spaces can help to fill that gap by becoming habitat havens, creating ribbons of vibrant areas through which wildlife can continue their travels. The Habitat Highways Training Series, in its second year, will continue to train advocates to create and restore wildlife habitats as a way to shorten the distances, "connect-the-dots", between restored and existing habitats. As a project-focused group, participants will learn wildlife habitat basics, habitat landscape design and implementation, WaterSmart irrigation and rainwater harvesting for wildlife habitats, and eco-system specific landscape construction. Led by Chris LaChance of the WaterSmart Landscaping Program (a program of TX AgriLife Extension Service and TX Sea Grant Extension) and Mark Bowen of Urban Harvest, the classes will be held on October 9th, 14th, 21st, and 28th, 9:00–3:30 each day at the United Way of Greater Houston, 50 Waugh Drive,

Houston, 77007. Two hands-on classes will be held on November 6th and 20th at a location to be announced. Cost is $150, including materials and space is limited. Participants must be prepared to attend each session. Help give wildlife uninterrupted travel along habitat corridors with the Habitat Highways initiative. For more information, contact Chris LaChance at 281-218-0721, c-lachance@tamu.edu or www.watersmart.cc.

Falstaff is the supreme, ultimate, transcendental comedy in music. Maestro Verdi at 80+ years old wrote music for the ages. Enjoy seeing the tables get turned on old "Sir John" as, in the end, we will agree:

modeler of Heights homes Mike Journey, you consider it your next rehab project. Covered by a tarp over the burned-out second story, the rehabilitation looked promising. Then when the rest of the structure was found to be structurally unsound for remodel or addition purposes, you tear it down, and rebuild a new one on the same footprint that echoes the style of the former structure. This may not be the normal, most popular concept in the Houston Heights, however many times it is the only acceptable alternative.

While looking at the rehab/tear-down, Mike and his wife, Pat, decided to downsize from their much bigger house in Memorial Hunters Creek Village and to build in the Heights a residence and "model-home" for Mike to show to potential clients. Collaborating with Mark van Doren of APD, they designed a residence of 2,700 square feet., with an open, spacious first floor incorporating three living areas, parlor, dining/library, and kitchen/breakfast/family room plus a master suite. The second floor design included two bedrooms with baths, a media room/office and front and back covered porches.

The interior features traditional crown moldings and classic trim and transoms, along with custom cabinets, granite counters, and porcelain and travertine tiles. Recycled materials included some porch decking, interior doors and oak flooring.

A feature of special interest is the garden, designed by The Backyard Gardener. It features an orchard as well as plumeria, orchids, and a number of favorite plants from their prior home. Native plants and an unusual "rock river" extends from the far corner of the back yard to the front yard. It provides visual interest and practical drainage.

For their efforts, in 2004, Pat and Mike were awarded the Houston Heights Association Community Improvement Award for Residential New Construction.

This meeting will highlight an unusual example of recycling a Houston Heights property from tear down to new construction. Overall, meeting attendees will see first hand what beauty and character can be added to the Heights historic neighborhood under adverse circumstances. For those interested in newly added features adding function to a property, this meeting will be a must. Also, for those wanting to talk with the people that made it happen and to meet some neighbors for an enjoyable evening, do attend.

The Houston Heights Restoration/ Historical Committee meetings are open to the public quarterly to learn about history and restoration in keeping with the appreciation of the historic nature of the Houston Heights. Please let Committee Chairman, Dean Swanson, know if you have a restoration project, historical structure under restoration or historical information or photos pertaining to the Heights to share at future meetings. Contact Dean at restoration@houstonheights.org or telephone him at (713) 880-2832.

Director Election Schedule

Seven of the fifteen positions on the HHA Board of Directors will be filled by election over the next few months. Five positions are opening due to normal expiration of terms; members elected to these five positions will have three-year terms. Two positions are for the remaining last year of terms ended by resignations.

The five nominees receiving the highest numbers of votes will fill the three-year terms; the nominees receiving the sixth and seventh-highest vote counts will fill the one-year vacancies. See the right column for a list of current Directors.

The schedule for the election of Directors to serve terms starting in 2009 will be as follows, in accordance with the By-Laws and Policies of the Association:

- September 8, Nominations for Board of Directors will be held at the General Meeting. Nominators and nominees must be current members of the Association. Nominators may speak for two minutes, seconders for one. Please be sure before you nominate someone that your nominee is willing to commit to serve. Nominees will not be allowed to speak on their own behalf during the September meeting.

- By September 10, the Election Committee will distribute to nominees election packets containing bylaws, policies, articles of incorporation, committee responsibility list, detailed election schedule, and a statement confirming that the nominee has read the bylaws and policies and agrees to serve in accordance with them if elected.

- By September 13, signed statements from nominees are due, as well as a 50-word statement from each nominee for publication in the October newsletter.

- October 13, nominees or their representatives may speak on their qualifications at the General Meeting for 3 minutes. They will also draw for ballot positions.

- On or before October 20, the Election Committee will mail a ballot with a control number to each member whose dues are current as of October 1.

- By November 8 at the close of the post office, ballots returned by mail must be received with control numbers intact.

- November 10, polls will be open for secret balloting in person from 6:00 PM to 7:00 PM before the General Meeting. The Election Committee will tabulate ballots and announce the results during the meeting. The results will also be published in the December newsletter.
